The Internet Archive is building a digital library of Internet sites and other cultural artifacts in digital form. The organization provides free access to researchers, historians, scholars and the general public.	$ 4,114,652.

In this way, the Internet Archive is working to prevent the Internet, a new medium with historical significance, and other "born-digital" materials from disappearing into the past. Collaborating with other institutions including the Library of Congress and the Smithsonian, the organization is working to preserve a record for generations to come.
